AVON HIGH SCHOOL
AVON, MASSACHUSETTS

SCHOOL LIFE at Avon is rich in friendships and traditions as it is in the quality of academic choice, preparing students to face the challenge of adult life in a larger world. The pages that follow are to be enjoyed, for they will be a source of recollection and reminiscence for years to come.

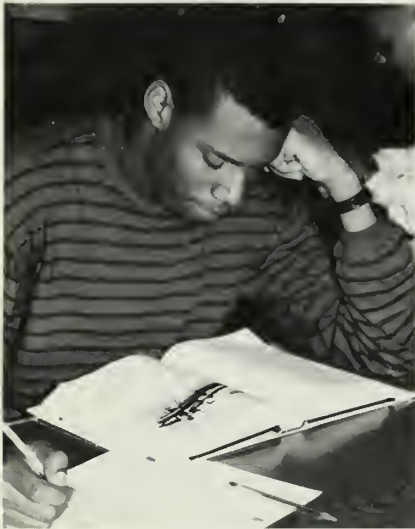

Step right up!

Locker-mates

Come on Dad, change it to an A.

Joe gets serious about U.S. history.

Lynne helps 7th graders bake cookies.

Let's get some heat in here.

Pat knows art.

Patrick, you lucky devil!

Steph, recovering from her auto accident.

Remember the "Snake-Guy?"

Back, Michelle, Back.

Mrs. Miller, I need HELP!

Sudden downpour

Something to smile about

We'll show off this step at the prom!

Oh, Steph! You dance divine.

Going in style.

No safety mask for me - my fans wouldn't recognize me.

Power Lunch

This is going to ruin my nails.

Illustrator-in-Residence

Computer confusion

Lunch break

Class outing

Another yearbook deadline

Close friends

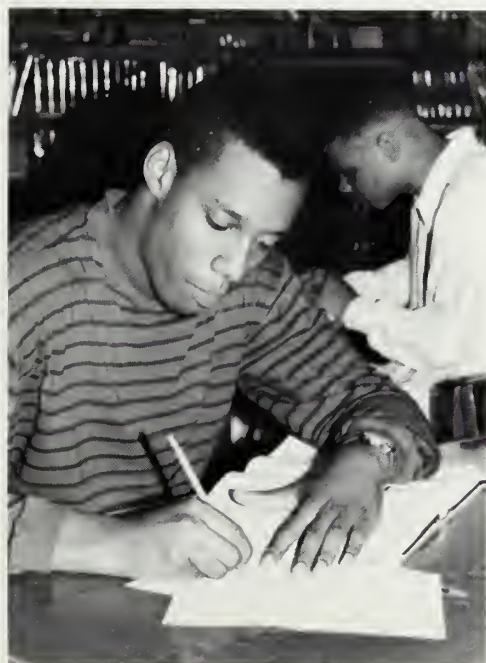

Al would be proud of me

I am really good at this.

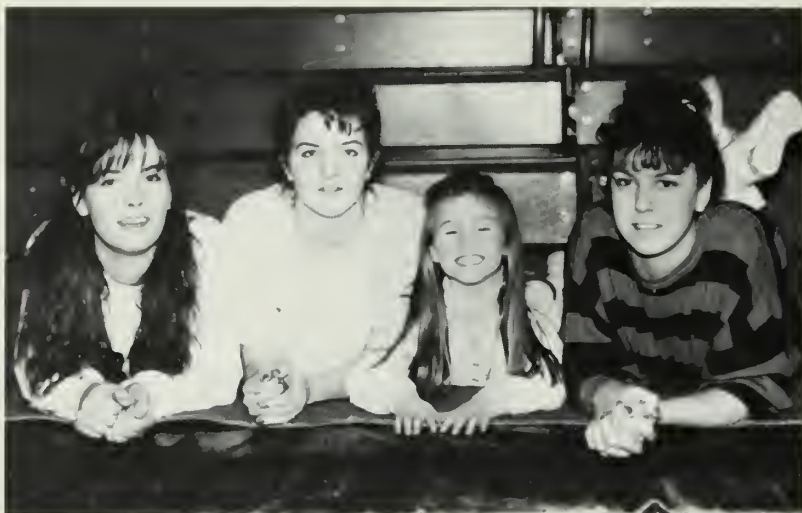

I wonder if this'll work.

DO NOT DISTURB - scholar at work

All dressed up with someplace to go.

Four babes

Melissa works on the yearbook.

One of the few times Mr. Bradshaw was able to find Billie.

Matt is always around to lend a helping hand.

Superjocks!

Dan's fall 'do

Weight watchers diet

I want to drink your blood.

Look guys, my mother's watching. Let me finish first this time.

Bet you can't do this.

We'll be taking over this yearbook job next year.

Listen to your sister Milton, she's run this course before.

Arthur prepares(?), performs(?), screws up a chemistry experiment.

Greg knows exactly how to sweep a girl off her feet.

Ho, Hum. Just another school day.

THE MORSS REVIEW-1991

You know how it is in mid-December, just before vacation. You know that you have to GIFF presents, you aren't RICH, you don't have any money, and you think you will have to take out LOHNES. And everything is so expensive! The littlest snack down the HATCH at HOWARD Johnson's will COLFER a terrible FEE. The LOIS cost thing is always a terrific amount.

Christmastime- food- ugh! Too much the stRUGGLES to keep your weight down, turning down a chocolate eCLAIRE or GERALDINE's cooking, trying to stay SHEPLEY. And nothing in the GIRARDIN this time of year, nowhere a native BERRY, the WINTERGRASS pale, the DALY fare pretty thin. And then those Christmas CAROLES blatting out of loudspeakers. Oh well, Scrooge never did much like Christmas.

And this year we were worried about the economy, and all fall we'd listened to the Silber tongue and the tenacious Weld DUQUETTE out, and then we didn't know if millions of BARROS of PHILLIPS Petroleum would have to be defended against Saddam Hussein by troops from Fort CAMPBELL and other places.

And so, late one cold, December afternoon, Scrooge had to DONNA coat and after going home after a day in the LYONS den, collapsed on the bed for a FREW minutes' sleep. You do these things when you are no longer YOUNG.

Reality faded off into dreamland, and Scrooge found himself about to set off on a journey. He undid the CHAPMAN lock on his 1947 KAISER and started it up. This was much better than his old 1942 FORDE. That car would never start. Whenever he pressed the starter button, it would sit there going. NASUTI, NASUTI, NASUTI, but it would almost never start. And it was hard to steer. As they say in Maine, it was hahd to parallel PUCKETT. But that car had a sad fate. Scrooge had been about to overtake a STANLEY Steamer one day when the terror of the highway, JANINE MCCAULEY, careened around a corner at over 100 in a JENSEN Interceptor, a car much faster than a HEALEY, and demolished the FORDE. Yup. It RUCKER. Thanks to the Angel GABRIEL, Scrooge was all right, but JANINE then had the GAUL to claim that nothing was her fault!

Anyway, Scrooge decided to head south, to the TAMiami Trail. After having the car checked at DOHERTY'S Garage, he headed off, through LYNNE via the center LANES of the MCGRATH and O'BRIEN Highways, not the CALLAHAN Tunnel, and thence you HERL along south through Owings MILLS, MARILYN, down into VIRGINIA, and eventually to Florida. The trip wasn't bad. The KAISER had been updated with a tape player, and the ANTON Bruckner symphonies, conducted by LEONARD Bernstein, took up lots of time. Florida was lovely. It was like SPRING there. What a relief from the weather that leaves you hacking and spooning down ROBISON to kill the cough.

But Florida had other attractions, as well, especially along the boardwalk. the college kids were there for vacation: kids like HERBIE, the boy in that movie the Summer of '42, out to find themselves a girl. And then shy Kids, like TOMMY GRIFFIN, along with his CONRADs, wandering the beach in cutoff JEANS, looking for a quiet place to sip a Coke (never a MILLER's) and to REED. And then the other sights and scenes: JEN COX, a rose clamped tight in her teeth, arms high in the air, clogging out a tarantella; MICHELLE CARVALHO, fresh from Sao PAULO, singing Brazilian top 40 hits in a night club; and in the next act, BOB HENDERSON and DOM MASTRIANO, doing a Pavarotti and Domingo imitation, trying to sing Neopolitan songs like Santa LUCIER. And in a 60's nostalgia place, JEN K starring as a go-go girl, dancing to the sounds of Chubby Checker, and LAURIE-LEE doing the Twist with several sailors. A more unusual sight was BRUCE JULIEN, on the beach in his bikini, swaying back and forth, yelling, "Gimme an A!" And back on the boardwalk, a group of small children watching a Punch and JUDY show.

But it was on the boardwalk that the most memorable moment of the trip occurred. A compact figure in a loud sports shirt, none other than LEE CONTI, with an enormous sombrero on his head, not KAREN a thing about what he was doing and sounding like a circus BARKER, began howling rather unkind Spanish epithets at a fellow built just like AUBREY. CONTI was really giving him lots of SASS. The huge man looked as if he were about to LYNCH him. Oh my FEO! Get out the ROSALIE beads and start praying! Or get to a pay phone and call the cops!

Luckily someone did, and guess who was MANNING the cruiser? None other than HARRY LEVINE! Dashing in, service revolver drawn, he was a picture of VIGOR. Bang! Bang! CONTI goes down. Oops! Got the wrong guy! Call the MEDICOS. Ouch! There is no light. Something on the table says 5:30. My head is bumped. I've hit it on the headboard. Florida has disappeared. The still bedroom reemerges in the near darkness. Time to get up and get some supper, then get back to correcting research papers.

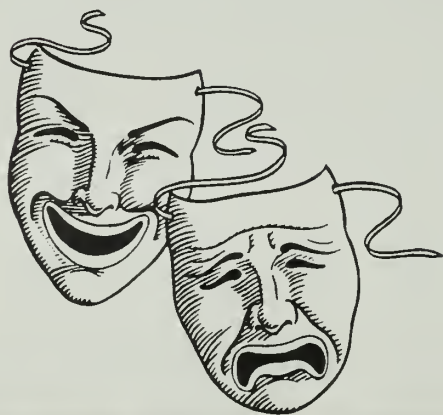

"And in a 60's nostalgia place, JEN K starring as a go-go girl, dancing to the sounds of Chubby Checker, and LAURIE-LEE doing the Twist with several sailors."

REMEMBER WHEN

Steve Gaul: Remember when I was a freshman and no matter how hard I tried I couldn't reach the pull-up bar . . . Kim Jensen: Remember when in English Dr. Morss asked us where the word assassin came from and I told him my mother made it up by accident when she was yelling at me and stuttered and said G-G-Get your assassin the car . . . Dan Lyons: Remember when Brian McCarthy shoved a piece of my birthday cake in my face at my junior year birthday . . . Lynne Ballum: Remember when I was feeling a bit under the weather, fell, and passed out . . . Stacey Lohnes: Remember when we went to H.H. after the prom fashion show Melissa? . . . Nikki Spring: Remember when Steve Gaul was driving down a hilly street, he thought he was cool. Then when he got home he almost didn't make it to the bathroom . . . Melissa Stanley: Remember when Stacy Lucier and I got accused of rigging the compatibility tests sophomore year . . . Stacy Lucier: Remember when Jen Burke threw up in Mr. Lyons' English class and she shook it on Janine . . . Catherine Puckett: Remember when Jen Burke stood up and told everyone at the school committee meeting we all had 6th grade reading levels, and then she cried . . . Jen Kuzborski: Remember when Catherine shot at the wrong basket twice in one season . . . Sean Daly: Remember when I innocently arrived at my first Avon party, only to be arrested two hours later . . . Tom Griffin: Remember when Fordey and I were scaming on the two chicks from New York and they asked us where we went to school and Fordey says HAR . . . HOLY CROSS . . . Tami Mahoney: remember when Pam shot a moon at Burger King . . . Michelle Connolly: Remember when Tom and Pat stuffed me into a wooden box during lunch and gave me a ride right into the wall . . . Pat Forde: Remember when Regina forgot to close her window shade and when Al tried to steal home . . . Jen Cox: Remember when reviewing for our English mid-term freshman year, Mr. Lyons kept waving the exam in front of us and I yelled out "Mr. Lyons don't tease us!" . . . Laurie-Lee Purnell: Remember when Regina and I almost killed each other in English class Freshman year and Mr. Lyons just sat and watched us . . . Alison Nasuti: Remember when Dan Lyons mooned the Soccer Cheerleaders 1990, from the parking lot . . . Mellisa Paulo: Remember when I flipped someone over my shoulder in the middle of Mr. Bradshaw's 7th grade English class . . . Janine McCauley: Remember when Jen Burke got sick on me first period of the day freshman year. I'm sure Mr. Lyons won't forget . . . Billie Pelaggi: Remember when Aliy N., Danny L., Gabe M., Steph G., and I went to D'Angelo's for lunch after the College Fair. Also, Cheese and Rachel, remember Fanuel Hall? . . . Joe Rucker: Remember when I became Caucasian because of the deadly python . . . Steph Geradin: Remember when the bus broke down during the Jr./Sr. field trip last year . . . Mr. Morss: Many years ago when wigs were in fashion, a ninth grade girl arrived in class wearing one. To tease her, another girl snatched it off her head and dropped it to the floor. The victim, who was wearing nothing but bobby pins underneath the wig, jammed the wig back on, at a crazy angle, and fled to the girls' room, returning a few minutes later with the wig back on properly . . . Mr. Julien: As a first year teacher I ran a 3 school faculty demonstration on the proper use of audio-visual equipment. In front of 70 teachers and administrators I began my presentation, very nervously, with a projector. As I started the projector the film broke in half and the bulb blew. Needless to say, not much was accomplished at the demonstration . . . Mrs. Wintergrass: I once fell down a flight of stairs and no one helped me up! Several students even stepped over me . . . Mrs. Miller: I could never tell Rhea and Roanne Kopp apart. Imagine my surprise when reading the 1988 yearbook and learning that when Roanne didn't feel like typing she would send Rhea in to do it. I never knew the difference . . . Mr. Lyons: During final exams last year I went to the file cabinet to get the exams for the junior English class assembled before me. I soon discovered that the file cabinet key was missing from the key ring where it was usually kept. I quickly scrambled around to make copies of the original masters of the exam. During the exam I reached into my pocket for a pen and there was the missing key. I had forgotten that in the previous day I had put the key among some other items so that I would be sure to know where it was . . . Mrs. Frew: Last year I always forgot a certain high school health class. One day I forgot about the class, left the building, and went to the bank. Come to find out when I got back to school the class had continued without me . . . Mr. Ruggles: When I was a first year teacher, it was suggested that I observe a class taught by an old pro just to watch how an experienced teacher ran a class. The thing that amazed me was that every student responded to his every question with hands raised high. In my mind, that kind of response and enthusiasm from inner-city Boston kids made the teacher look like a miracle worker. Later I found that the teacher's class had standing instructions for whenever a "guest" was present in the room to respond to all questions with hands raised-right hands up if they knew the answer, left hands if they didn't . . .

ADMINISTRATION, FACULTY, AND STAFF

Superintendent's Message to the Class of 1991:

Don't lose heart that you can't change the world in just a day or two. Rather, just do the best you can in all that you do today.

You will find that these days, taken all together, will make the world a little better for tomorrow.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Mr. Harry Levine

Having arrived at Avon High School in the fall of 1987 with the class of 1991, I feel a special attachment to each student in the class. We have grown together and learned together. We have adapted to the changes in our town and our school, and we have become better citizens in the process. As graduates you will now embark upon a path to even greater learning experiences. As you go forward, remember the lessons and the values you learned here and the teachers you leave behind. Go proudly! The memory of our experiences together will remain forever in our hearts.

CLASS WILL

LYNNE BALLUM: I leave a I-10 softball record to Mr. Herl and the two demerits Mr. Levine gave me for being dishonest when I left school junior year.

KEITH BERRY: To J. I leave the biggest and best of homerooms; to Mr. Lyons . . . My endorsement in '92; to the school, the best damn guitar player anywhere; and to Diane - the best of luck.

MICHELLE CONNOLLY: To Mr. J. the book of good comebacks; to Aimee two tokens to Boston; to Mr. Lane and Mr. Henderson matching G-strings; to Mrs. Mahoney "CHAEKS"; and to Mike all my love.

PATRICK FORDE: To Mr. Ruggles I leave my title as Magister Bibendi; to Mr. Giff I leave my jump shot; to Mr. Lyons I leave my vice-presidency; and to AHS I leave the end of a very long generation.

STEVE GAUL: To Mrs. Mahoney I leave a ton of reprocessed clay; Mr. Healy I leave you with the guitars playing; Mr. Morss gets the honor of writing memoirs; Big B. I leave in a headlock; and for Mr. Lyons I leave while I still can.

STEPHANIE GIRARDIN: To Madame; my ripped up jeans . . . her favorites!! All of my tissues to all of my teachers over all the years; and my TEMPER to anyone and everyone that ever passes through the school!

THOMAS A. GRIFFIN: I leave my coaches Mr. Gill, Mr. Lyons, Mr. Herlihy, and most of all Mr. Gifford my thanks and deepest respect.

KIMBERLY JENSEN: To Mr. Healy a thank-you for the encouragement you gave when all I said was "I Can't" and you made me realize I could; and to Avon High School I leave when the Bell Rings.

MATTHEW J. KAISER: I leave myself of these premises; I leave to Lamont Bullock my picture of Bill Lambier and for Mr. Ruggles I leave my suave sense of tactfulness.

BRIAN LEONARD: I leave to David Kierstead 1000 shares of Kraft Cheese products.

STACEY LOHNES: I leave Shannon three fun-filled years at AHS; Sadly, I leave two of the best teachers at Avon - Mrs. Mahoney and Mr. J!

STACY LUCIER: To Madame - my "bon memoire"; to Mr. Ruggles a yearbook staff that works; to Mr. Gifford my thanks for all his help; and to Aimee Connolly - two tokens to Boston.

DAN LYONS: I leave my leadership of the NCAA Basketball Tournament Contest to Brian McCarthy and Mark Mitchelson; and I leave Mr. Lyons with the lasting memory of having his pride and joy in English class. See Ya!

TAMI MAHONEY: To Avon High I leave three years of great memories and I leave to the teachers many thanks for their support.

JANINE McCAULEY: To Mr. Lyons a successful campaign in '92; and to Miss Shepley a large research grant for the biology class.

CAROL MEDICO: To Miss Shepley an intercom that doesn't interrupt her; and to Mr. Lyons the hope he'll get the salary he says he does and a successful whistle-stop tour of America in '92.

ALISON NASUTI: To Craig "Sweety" Staffier and David Kierstead I leave the Drama Authority, trusting you'll do right.

CATHERINE PUCKETT: To Mr. Giff - a new box of kleenex to replace the one I used; and my greatest thanks to Mr. Levine - thanks for the inspiration, and a never ending list of what - if questions! LY!!; to all my underclassmen friends - Good Luck! I will never forget you!

NICOLE SPRING: I leave to Cindie Spring my parking space and all the happiness which I have received throughout High School.

MELISSA STANLEY: I leave two jelly donuts and a black coffee to Mr. Lane and also my corner on West Main Street and Feeley Street. OOPS!!

LAURIE-LEE PURNELL: I leave my corner parking space to Denise Kislauskis and Wendy Egersheim.

THEATER AT AMHS

SCHOOL PLAYS

In the fall of 1990, the Drama Club performed "Help! I'm trapped in a High School."

The full length play is about three Valley girls and a friend who get trapped in a Public School Maximum Security which is commonly known as Last Chance High. A computer mistake places these students and two student teachers in a high school filled with punk rockers, a drill sergeant principal, a teacher who thinks fire drills are educational, a seventy year old secretary who is a undercover police woman on the granny squad and a bag lady turned dietician.

In November, Avon Middle High School and Holbrook Jr. Sr. High School's SADD groups joined together with a group called "Impact" to perform a play called "Eddie." The play is a true story. In 1977, Eddie LaRiviere died at the age of 16 of alcohol poisoning and asphyxiation. Eddie's brother, Kevin LaRiviere wrote this play to educate kids about alcohol and drug abuse. "Impact" brings Eddie, while students play all other rolls. The purpose of having Eddie not be a student is the effect of having the students (his best friends, his girlfriend, etc.) in school the next day, whereas Eddie is not there.

Who would've guessed Principal Rauchwear is actually the Great Imposter?!

Sweet talkin' Eddie cons Julie into going to a party.

Mom sticks up for Eddie, as Dad steps in.

Keith, Dave, and Eddie take a day off ...

The students of Last Chance take over. Here seen trapping School Security.

FALL SPORTS' REVIEW

Youth and inexperience produced relatively fewer wins than past championship seasons. Yet our FALL ATHLETES played hard - foreshadowing their future potential.

Sean eludes a defender.

CROSS COUNTRY

After losing three out of the top five runners from last year's championship team, first year coach John Lyons and assistant coach Rich Gifford knew this year would be a struggle. It was. The boys ran their way to a 3- 10 record with a shut-out victory over Upper Cape Regional, a convincing victory over Holbrook, and probably the biggest win of the year over West Bridgewater on Sports Saturday. The team was led this year by a trio of runners. Junior John MacDonald was injured in the beginning of the season but came back with four team first place finishes. Sophomore co-captain Arthur Harris had a very productive season, starting the season as the number one runner. Senior co-captain Dan Lyons finished in the top three all season, finishing the year with four first place finishes. Steve Gaul, Mike Kameese, Keith Berry, and Milton Nasiopoulos all were in the top five this year. Jimmy Stanley, Mark McNair, Keith Jensen, and Keith MacKehnie also performed well this year. Jay Brown suffered a serious leg injury that kept him out of all races. The girls probably had one of their best seasons ever. Although the girls suffered a variety of injuries and sickness, they made their way to a 3-3 record. Freshman Allison Lauretto led and provided the spark for the team. Meghan Johnson was a proven force in the league. Junior co-captain Danielle Lauretto placed in the top three in every race and proved to be a team leader. Adding to the effort was Jennifer Kuzborski, sister Janice Kuzborski, Pam Sullivan, Chiquita Rice, Erin Greeley, and Christine Bechet. Senior co-captain Catherine Puckett and Shannon Bush were both out all season with injuries.

VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

The 1990 varsity volleyball season was a rebuilding year. The only returning championship varsity players were this year's co-captains Gayle Barker and Jen Cox. The varsity team lost eleven seniors and coach Maureen Shanahan to retirement. Michelle Geary, last year's winning junior varsity coach, stepped in to fill coach Shanahan's shoes. The team's record was 6 wins and 10 losses. Such a record was unexpected due to the youth of the team. Among the varsity players were senior, Janine McCauley, sophomore, Damask Hansen, and freshman Danielle Hansen. First year volleyball players for the Panthers were sophomore, Courtney Clifford, and eighth graders, Elizabeth Chapman, Suzanne Berry, Kristy MacFarlane, Leah Previti, and Meaghan Jensen. All of the players worked very hard and there was great improvement among the players. This was apparent for four of the team's wins were in the second half of the season. Avon ended up in fourth place in the Mayflower League. Some predicted that this year Avon would be in last place. However, this year's players did not allow this to happen. Avon has had excellent volleyball teams in the past, and during the time it will take to rebuild will continue to strive for improvement. With the experience these eighth graders have received, Avon will be back to win another championship.

J.V. VOLLEYBALL

This year, Avon had a very new junior varsity volleyball team composed of all first time players and new coach Carol Campbell. Their record in all was 4 wins and 12 losses. The team's record on paper may not seem impressive, but the overall effort of the team and the feats the players did accomplish were significant. Perhaps one of the highlights of the season was Avon's win against Brockton on Sports Day, Saturday, October 13, in Avon's gym. It was a very difficult game against the Brockton team, but in the end, the Panthers emerged the winners in three well-played games. The members of the team included co-captains Meaghan Jensen, who later was moved up to the varsity team, and Melissa McDermott. Avon's top server for the season and one of Avon's setters was Christine Lopes. Other members of the J.V.

Danielle shows the form of a long distance runner.

Coach Lyons gives his winners last minute strategies.

Team included Christine Cormier, Jessica Gill, Melissa Guthrie, Eliza Rubino, Anita Schloss, Emily Wauhob, Melissa Wilkins, and setter, Colleen McKinnon. Kristy MacFarlane and Leah Previti played for both the J.V. Team and the Varsity Team. Avon did well for an inexperienced team and hopefully will come back next year for a winning season.

and 7 assists and was chosen as a Mayflower League All-Star. Ben Chapman finished the season with 7 goals and 5 assists. The team ended the season with a record of 4-8-2 and won its last two games of the season against Tri-County and Bristol Plymouth.

Jen returns a volley.

SOCCER

Entering the 1990 season, head coach Dominic Mastriano and his relatively young team looked to improve upon last season's record. Team leaders were co-captains Ben Chapman and Mark Mitchelson. Other returnees from last year's team were Greg Hampton, Eric Czaikowski, Craig Staffier, Derek Anderson, and Daniel Puckett. Newcomers to the team were Sean Daly, Steve Mallett, Brian McCarthy, Mary-Jo Lavoie, Valerie Juknevicus, Jaime Macomber, Richard Heath, and Mike Mottau. Brian McCarthy and Eric Czaikowski led the defense and played well all season. The goal-tending duties were split between Steve Mallett and Richard Heath. Honorable Mention All-Star Mark Mitchelson also contributed to the defense while also playing midfield. Also playing the midfield positions were Craig Staffier, Mike Mottau, and Jamie Macomber. Playing well on offense were Derek Anderson, Daniel Puckett, Mary-Jo Lavoie, and Valerie Juknevicus. The bulk of the offense was controlled by senior forwards Sean Daly and Ben Chapman. Sean Daly finished the season with 12 goals

WINTER SPORTS' REVIEW

Panther tradition continued at Avon, not with the Championship caliber teams of the past few years, but with eager young athletes whose own winning seasons are ahead of them.

The thrill of victory.

Boys Varsity

After back-to-back championships, Head Coach Dan Herlihy was trying to make it three in a row. With only one returning Varsity player, this season looked to be a long, tough one. Tri-Captain Lamont Bullock continued to dominate the Mayflower League with his outstanding play for the second year in a row. Lamont would be named an All-Star and would also be Co-M.V.P. of the Mayflower League. Also contributing to the team was senior Tri-Captain Pat Forde and sophomore center Steve Mallett. Contributing both offensively and defensively was senior point guard Ben Chapman. Sophomore forward Greg Hampton and senior forward Dan Lyons helped out offensively and with the rebounding. Also contributing to the team was sophomore Arthur Harris and juniors Mark Mitchelson, Eric Czaikowski, and Chip Heaton. The team played the entire season without Tri-Captain Tom Griffin, who was out due to knee surgery. At press time the Varsity team record was 8 wins and 8 losses.

Junior Varsity 1

The team finished the season with a 10-7 record. The team's success can be attributed to the excellent coaching effort by Mr. Peter Gill and the diligent work of the entire team. High scorers for the team were Arthur Harris, Brian McCarthy and Kevin Johnson. Kevin Smith directed the offense from the point position. Richard Heath and Arley Howard played consistent defense and rebounded well. Eighth grader Jim Armour and Sean Pulera also played well. There are high expectations for this team next year.

The J.V. 2 team had seventh graders for the first time. The team started slowly and finished with one win. Sean Pulera and Jim Armour consistently scored well from under the hoop and from three point range. Arley Howard contributed with rebounds and baskets from inside the line. Mike Cameese, a seventh grader, excelled at drawing fouls and helped the team with clutch scoring. Craig Staffier played the point and contributed throughout the season to the team effort. Eighth grader Brian McCarthy moved the ball well and also played good defense. Overall the team demonstrated enthusiasm and eagerness to learn and should be commended for a fine year.

Varsity Girls

The Girls' Varsity Basketball team was young and inexperienced. Only Catherine Puckett and Jen Kuzborski returned from last year's varsity. The team held its own in nearly every game. Catherine Puckett, all-star center, scored over 300 points, and dominated the boards. Jen Kuzborski proved to be a versatile player who performed consistently in all aspects of the game. Gayle Barker contributed well in her first year. She was second in rebounding and was a vital team player. Danielle Lauretto's tenacious defense intimidated many opponent's. Freshman Janice Kuzborski was excellent at point guard and added many assists. This year's team finished in third place in the Mayflower League Small School division and proved that a team with little experience can still win basketball games.

J.V. Girls

Despite a good effort, the 1990-1991 Girls' Junior Varsity Basketball season was not as successful in terms of victories as we had hoped. With a new coach, Mr. Paul Anderson, the team went through many changes. Seeing that it was everybody's first year playing organized basketball, a lot of learn-

Danielle eyes a rebound.

MAKING OF A LEGEND

Lamont has played varsity basketball since his freshman year. He saw limited action his first year, playing in only seven games and scoring 42 points. During his sophomore year he emerged as one of the best players in the Mayflower League Division I averaging 24 points a game. In addition he received several other honors his sophomore year: Brockton Enterprise All-Scholastic, Boston Globe, All-Scholastic Second Team, Player of the Week, Boston Globe, and Player of the Week, Brockton Enterprise.

In his junior year he was named Player of the Week in both the Brockton Enterprise and the Boston Globe. The Boston Herald featured him as player of the week. The league coaches voted him league M.V.P. based on his game average of 26.4 pts, 15 rebounds and 6 assists per game.

College coaches from Division I, II and III have expressed interest in Lamont.

VERSATILE ATHLETE

Catherine Puckett was a three sport athlete during each of her high school years. She will be best remembered, however, as the leading scorer and leading rebounder, averaging 22 rebounds, this year for the Avon Lady Panthers basketball team. Improving considerably as the season progressed, Catherine was named to the Mayflower League Small Schools Division All-Star Team and was featured as a "Player of the Week" in the Boston Globe.

Catherine also participated in many other extracurricular activities including being President of her class for three years, a member of the Spring and Christmas Cabarets, and a cast member in our Drama Club productions. She will be attending Bridgewater State College where she plans to major in Geology, a subject she studied both during her freshman year and as a senior at Harvard University. Geology is her second love, right after basketball.

ing had to take place. The members of the team were in grades 7-10. The seventh grade member was Jessica Gill. Eighth graders were Liz Chapman, Meaghan Jensen, Leah Previti, Bonnie Billings, Colleen McKinnon, Kristy MacFarlane, Val Juknevicius, Mary-Joe Lavoie, Melissa McDermott, and Melissa Guthrie. The ninth graders were Chiquita Rice and Lucian Campbell. Two tenth graders were also involved in the in the Junior Varsity program, they were Eliza Rubino and

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Alison: When my red nail polish fell out of my pocketbook in Mr. Lyons' room. The class drew a chalk figure around the splattered polish and claimed someone was murdered!

Jennifer K: When my sister pulled down my pants while I was bowling, the people next to us saw the whole thing. Whenever I went back up to bowl, they always laughed at me.

Laurie-Lee At the 1990 Prom, when Mr. Levine and TJ Leonard had to carry me out screaming because of stomach pains and everyone in the Hotel stared at us.

Catherine: Sophomore year when we were on the whale watch, and I didn't feel so great Dan: When I was driving my mom's car in Fairhaven, I got pulled over by a state trooper, and given quite a high speeding ticket.

Steve: At the halftime bell in a basketball game a kid on the other team chucked the ball towards the stage, it missed the backboard and whacked me in the face. Then I fell!!

Keith: When I did "Dress You Up" with Catherine and Jen K. in the seventh grade.

Lynne: I was in a hurry to get lunch and while walking I almost fell. I said to Stacey I almost fell and after I said that I did fall and I grabbed the back of her coat to keep from falling but I fell anyway!

Michelle P.: In Chemistry sophomore year I had my walkman and I was trying to get good reception by getting into weird positions. "Aily, don't move!"

Mellisa: When walking out of the girls' room in eighth grade, my skirt was tucked in my nylons and Stacey Lohnes told me before anyone saw it.

Pat: When I was caught in the hot tub with Donna Crone by Al and the rest of the party at Jakes.

Tom: When our gym class was playing tennis but I was playing home run derby and I dislocated my shoulder on a deep drive to left-center.

Stacy: Basketball Cheerleading at Blue Hills. When I went to do a split, I landed with a loud CRACK! Everyone in the stands heard it. I had to sit with ice packs between my legs.

Michelle: When I was at the beach, a wave took my top and put it around my waist.

Kimberly and Melissa: When Kim and Melissa were doing a cheer at a basketball game. Melissa was supposed to do a handstand behind Kim and put her legs on Kim's shoulders and Kim would flip her over. Melissa ended up kicking Kim in the head, almost knocking her out while the crowd laughed hysterically.

Tami: I went into the bathroom where I wasn't supposed to be and dropped a book in the toilet. Mrs. Miller was in the next stall, so I ran out. Later Kim got my book and put it into the microwave to dry it.

Nicole: At R.H.S. my freshman year my knee gave out in the Senior Hall and I fell WITH A SKIRT ON in front of all the senior guys.

Gabe: When Mr. Morss discovered I had been doing book reports on "The Hobbit" since the fifth grade.

Stephanie: At Jodi Ferrini's graduation party, everybody was watching the volleyball game while I was talking to Lynn Ferrini. The volleyball came flying over and hit me on the head. Everyone stared at me but I kept right on talking.

Janine: When I first got my license I drove to school. When I got out of the car, my pocketbook hit the horn making it look like I was showing off.

Carol: Junior year, running the laps in gym, I tripped and fell in front of the entire class.

TAMI

TO THE CLASS OF 1991

I did not need pictures of certain friends to remember the good and the bad times we have shared in the years of our friendships. I have the memories of each and everyone of you and I will always treasure them.

As we graduate I thank everyone of you for being there for me when I needed a friend. I tried to be there for you in the past by being the class clown. I only wanted to wipe away your sorrow and bring smiles to your faces.

This past year it was difficult for me to do that because sometimes I could not even bring a smile to my own face. I guess it was a sign of growing up.

Everyone of us ultimately is mature and searches for the person we want to become.

We have all watched each other grow up and we have each other to grow in many ways. It may be difficult for some of us to graduate and go our own separate ways but just remember the memories we have made and smile.

Everyone in the Class of 1991 has the ability to achieve in this world. Keep your heads high above the rest of the crowd and you will succeed.

I will always remember the class of 1991. Good Luck in the years to come.

Love, Tami

MOM AND DAD

I am the person I am.
Sometimes I like me.
Sometimes I love me.
Sometimes I hate me.
Sometimes I don't think of me.
Sometimes I am selfish and think of myself too much.

No matter what you think of me.
I will always think of you.
I will always thank you for making me the person I am and have become.

I will always have a deep feeling for you because you have guided me through this long, lonely, strange world.

So hard.
So lonely.
So painful,
So hurtful,
Growing can be.

I suppose everyone has to face growing up someday.
I think my day is coming.
I feel the pain-the sorrow of letting go of yesterday's childhood memories.

I try,
I struggle
to reach the highest point of my life.

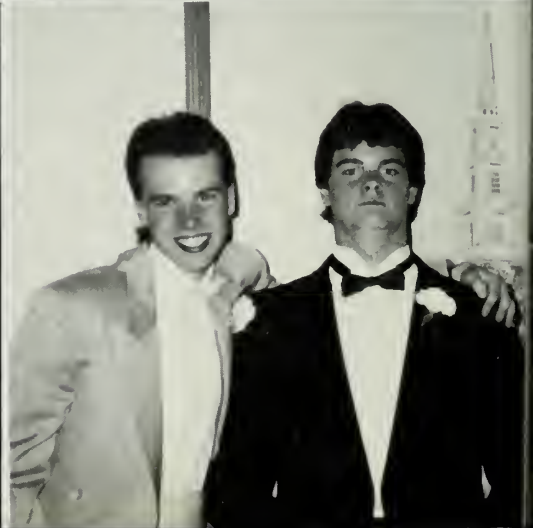

It is time to let go of the wonderful years past and look to the future.

I realize that now is the time for me to fulfill my dreams.

I love you both with all of my heart.

A Letter From The Class Of 1941 To The Class Of 1991:

It is wonderful that the class of 1941 of old Avon High School can rendezvous with you in this publication. Our secondary schooling was in older buildings but on the same turf. We were 26 strong when we received our diplomas on June 18, 1941. Franklin D. Roosevelt was President of the United States. We were fortunate to graduate when America was not yet into World War II, but we knew what destiny had in store for us.

As years go by you will attach increasing importance to history and sense your generations place in it. Most of our class were born in 1923 when Warren Harding or Calvin Coolidge was President. Lyndon Johnson observed during his Presidency (1963-68) that the entire history of the nation was linked by just four Presidencies. He noted that he was born during the Presidency of James Buchanan (1857-61); and Buchanan was born during the Presidency of George Washington (1789-97).

Soon America could elevate to the Presidency a man or woman born during Johnson's Presidency to extend that significant link. Soon after that your own age group will qualify. In 2024 some American born during George Bush's Presidency will be eligible to seek that high office. Perhaps it will be someone from a small town like Avon.

Shortly after your graduation our class members will gather to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of our graduation. We must seem ancient to you. You will seem so to the graduating class fifty years hence, but you will not feel ancient.

As we of 1941 reflect upon our journeys, it is fitting that we congratulate you and wish you peaceful journeys and happy adventures, far into the next century.

Thurlow O. Cannon

President, Class of 1941
